Two Alleged Critics of War Accused Anew

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—(A)— Federal and state governments cracked down from three direc-tions today on Robert Noble and Ellis O. Jones, accused of criticizing America's war effort and General Douglas MacArthur.

The federal government ar-raigned them on charges of sedition, preliminary hearings were set for April 15, and they were held in default of $10,000 bail

The state filed charges of criminal libel against them here, alleging that they wrote in a magazine published by the Friends of Progress that MacArthur, in leaving Bataan for Australia, "just ran out in the dead of night.

In San Francisco, Attorney General Earl Warren ordered felony complaints filed against them and seven other asserted Friends of Progress members, accusing them with failing to register under the subversive organizations act.

Noble and Jones were arrested last December on charges of sedition but Attorney General Biddle ordered their release a few days later with the comment: "Free speech as such ought not to be restricted." Today Noble told newsmen:

"Well, I don't believe there's anything said that is different from anything I said before. I have kept in correspondence with Bid-dle since the other matter and have received no indication that there was any trouble in store

Noble volunteered his opinion that Movie Actor Lew Ayres was "a shining light" because of his decision to enter a conscientious objectors' camp. "I'm thrilled with Ayres' stand," Noble said.

Ayres Arrives At Objectors' Camp, Likes It

WYETH, Ore., April 1.—(A)— Lew Ayres, the motion picture actor who declined to bear arms for his country, registered at a quiet conscientious objectors' camp

Attended by a gallery which deserted a minor fire to witness his arrival, Ayres became the 171st enrollee at the camp, supported and operated by the Brethren and Mennonite churches.

After luncheon, which consisted of vegetable soup, curried rice, canned cherries, coffee and con-densed cream, bread and butter, Ayres remarked:

"Gee, this is an ideal spot." He immediately was given a duty assignment. With another enrollee, Ayres will handle emergency first aid work. He will arise at 6 a. m. and will depart with work gangs in nearby tim-ber at 7:30 o'clock, after a brief devotional period. He will report back to camp at 5 p. m., and will retire at 10 o'clock. With others, he will be allowed three short recreational leaves a week.

During some of these he hopes to climb nearby Wind mountain. He said he also would like to attempt to scale Mount Hood, which towers above the camp.

Ayres seemingly was accepted immediately by other men at the camp. One reported back to his "He looks like a real guy."

One of the outstanding garden developments of the season is the creation of a beautiful azalea garden in the central parkway on Carswell avenue, the garden extending for 12 blocks. The azaleas were transplanted while many of the plants were in full bloom.

Azaleas, dogwood, wistaria, redbud, spirea and other blooms are profuse in every section of the city, in parks and in private gardens, and recent afternoons have brought a veritable parade of automobiles through the residential sections as natives and visitors alike view the spring scene.

BLITZKRIEG SHIRT SERVICE For Men in a Hurry 3 HOURS IN AND OUT

THE LAMB: Pardon me, Madam. But I'm merely a symbol. The symbol of a gentler way to deal with your little difficulty.

THE LADY: You mean that little matter of constipation?

THE LAMB: Precisely. If you are one of those people with normal intestines who suffer from constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, this crisp and toasty cereal, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, will not only correct the cause of the trouble, but by a way that is surprisingly pleasant, and

THE LADY: Gentle? Hmm! - that sounds interesting. Go on-tell me more!

THE LAMB: You see, many medicinal laxatives work by prodding your intestines into action, or by drawing moisture into them from other parts of the body. But KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN works principally on the contents of the colon, helping you to have easy and normal elimination.

THE LADY: Well, I never! And it does look crisp and delicious. Let's try it.

THE LAMB: Remember to eat it often, and drink plenty of water.

Dr. Ainsworth, in Macon, Reviews Recent Controversy Over Firings.

MACON, Ga., April 1 .- "The people of Georgia are confronted with one of the gravest problems of this generation," Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared here today in an address before the Macon Kiwanis Club.

While he did not call Governor Talmadge by name, the Bishop reviewed the recent controversy in the state caused by the ousting of a number of the personnel of the University System by Tal-

The bishop stated the first "disastrous" effect of the dismissals was the action of the Southern Association of Colleges in terminat-ing relations with the university units and he said the second con-sequence will be the "increasing trek of Georgia students to colleges outside the state, and listed as the third "disastrous conse-quence" the "withdrawal of financial appropriations for educa-tional aid from many sources for the Georgia system."

He said other "disasters" would be censure of the state on the outside; loss of skillful teachers and that the state will be damaged by a campaign of racial issues.

Count Vitamins To Keep Your Teeth

By Ida Jean Kain

If you have already acquired your third set of teeth, you will not be interested in reading any further. This is for the folks who still have a goodly number of their second set of teeth and want to hang on them.

We know quite a lot about nu-trition and teeth. Not everything by any means. But we know def-initely that their development and healthy maintenance depends upon the minerals, calcium and phosphorus, and the vitamins A, C and D.

We need calcium and phosphorus because they are what the teeth are made of. Now, it isn't so important to learn that grownups require 0.8 grams of calcium a day and children from one to the and one-half grams. All you one and one-half grams. All you have to remember is that adults need a pint of milk every day and children from three to four glasses.

Why is it that you must also have vitamins A, C and D for healthy teeth? Because without these vitamins you could not effectively use the minerals. You might drink your milk and still lose your teeth unless you got these important vitamins.

If, in order to keep your calories down, you take skim milk or buttermilk in place of whole milk, then you must be sure to have a good serving of green leafy veg-etable every day or to take a vitamin A concentrate of haliver or

To get your vitamin C you must have daily a citrus fruit—oranges or grapefruit or the juice—or tomatoes, plus a second fruit.

You also need some sunshine for vitamin D. In the winter months it is most emphatically a good plan to take codliver oil, use a sun lamp regularly, or take a trip to Florida or California. There is a seasonal influence on the vitamin

Minister's Schedule Delays Virginia Cates' Christening

 DEAN RAIMUNDO DE OVIES probably is quite unaware that he is the direct cause of little Virginia Willis Cates having outgrown two handsome christening robes! But it so happened that every time the baby's parents, Alvin Jr. and Virginia Willis Cates, decided to have her christened, Dean de Ovies would take himself out of town. Since they especially wanted the dean to officiate, accordingly the rites were postponed.

So Virginia and Alvin decided to wait until Easter afternoon, since the baby's first birthday anniversary also falls during the same weekend. But when they called to set the time, once again they were disappointed, for church duties will take the dean out of town that afternoon! However, a definite time was set at last, and the rites will be held Sunday morning, April 12, immediately following the regular service at St. Philip's cathedral.

Acting as the baby's godmother will be her aunts, Lucile Willis (Mrs. Dargan) Cole, of Cartersville, and Sarah Cates. Her godfathers will be her maternal uncles, Charles and Walter Willis.

Little Virginia will wear a lace-trimmed organdy frock, fashioned with a square neckline, tiny puffed sleeves and featuring pin tucks on the bodice. The dress is a christening gift from Sarah. With it, the baby will wear a matching lace-trimmed slip, especially made for the occasion by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. C.

. . . AUGMENTING the ranks of lovely Easter visitors is Kitsy Collier, of La-Grange, who arrives today to visit Lewise Camp at her home on Northwood avenue for the remainder of the week. Kitsy is at home for the spring holidays from Hollins College, and luckily her vacation coincides with Lewise's. Lewise will return today from Albany, where she and Bowdre Budd have been visiting Mary Callaway. And as soon as she arrives, she and Kitsy will plunge into a perfect whirl of Easter parties. They will be guests at the Coca-Cola party at which Betty Regenstein and June Reynolds will be hostesses tomorrow in compliment to Carolyn Howell and her visitors, Patricia Platte, of Vicksburg, Miss., and Betsey Barrett, of Decatur, Ill. Carolyn and her guests are class-mates at Sophie Newcomb in New Orleans, where Lewise expects to enroll next fall.

Another affair eagerly anticipated by the visitors and their hostesses is the O. D. D. dance tomorrow evening at the Druid

If you would like a group of students from the Naval Air Base as your guests for dinner on Easter Sunday, call Mrs. Wilmer Dutton at Hemlock 1467. Such guests will not only add interest to the occasion, but will help you to get the great-est enjoyment from Easter.

• • LITTLE Gene Smith Jr. was ill when his second birthday rolled around in January, and he couldn't have a party. So his mother, Idabelle Roberts (Mrs. Gene) Smith, is planning a party in his honor at the Easter egg hunt for the Atat the Walter Candler estate.

This will really be Gene's first party, and he is quite thrilled, for 20 young guests have been invited to play with him. Each will be given a gaily-colored basket in which to gather eggs, in addition to cunning little rabbits and baby chicks. And afterwards everybody will go to the Smith home on North Decatur road for ice cream and cake.

Gene's little cousin, Judy Lowe, will be a special guest at the party and will travel all the way from Columbus on the train with only her nurse as company. Judy is the two-yearold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lowe Jr., her mother having been Dorothy Smith, of Columbus, before her marriage.

Red Sox Blast Crackers, 16 to 4

A Player From Peru Joe Engel probably thinks he's something with a couple of Mexicans and a few Cubans on the Chattanooga Choo Choo squad. But wait.

The Crackers have a player from Peru-Kansas, U.S.A. Last shortstop the Crackers owned who wore glasses was Russ Peters, and except for a weakness for fielding one-handed, he was an ace. Last Buster they had was a pistol. Named Chatham.

Buster Blakeney, who wears glasses, is a twofisted fielder, and a double play man from away back. Well, from away north, anyway. Blakeney managed the Gloversville team of the Canadian-American League last season.

Blakeney's a switch batter-he hasn't been much of a hitter in his entire career. And yet he knocks in a few runs here and there. He accounted for 65 and scored 85 while batting .308 last season for Gloversville.

The new Cracker keystone mate of Charley Letchas probably is the only House of David product who ever made the grade with Atlanta. Blakeney spent the '34 season with the bearded outfit.

Blakeney had two fine fielding years with Memphis in the Southern League-1937 and 1938. Since, he has been in the Cotton States, Eastern and Canadian-American leagues. His lifetime career is as follows:

Ivy Griffin Ivy Griffin, who ran the Macon Peaches for Milt Stock in the series with the Crackers, will manage, in the Northern League this summer. Ivy will join the Winnipeg, Canada, squad for spring training at Minneapolis, Minn., in a couple of weeks. Baseball starts late in the Northern loop because of the weather.

"That's pretty far south for us," Griffin declared as we talked together on the Peach bench, speaking of spring training in Minneapolis.

offin is affiliated with the Milwaukee club, which actually means that he is employed by the Chicago Cubs, and he is a strong supporter of Charley Grimm, who has done an outstanding job with the Brewers.

Milwaukee was on the verge of folding when the Cubs came to the rescue and sent Grimm there to manage the team. Within less than two months he had the Brewers going and this year appears to have one of the most powerful class Double A outfits.

Grimm, himself, is one of the more colorful men in the

The Babe Can Hit There is no telling what emotions swept over Paul Richards as he watched Babe Ellis, a big fellow who runs like a deer, wallop a home run inside the park at Macon. Babe previously had hit a triple and collaborated with Cecil Travis-he's also a pretty fair country hitter-in embarrassing the Crackers no end.

Ellis would have been one of the Atlanta outfielders if the war hadn't come along. And Babe definitely showed that he would have replaced Lester Burge-and no questions asked.

There'll still be plenty of time for Ellis to be a Cracker star after the world conflict is over. Babe's a young fellow, with a career ahead. And if the ability he has shown is not misleading, he'll one day make the Crackers another

Speaking of finished hitters, I'll take Cecil Travis, who finished second only to Ted Williams in the American League last season.

There's hardly any way to pitch to him, as Paul Richards pointed out.

'Throw one away from him and he'll hit the doggondest line drive you ever saw . . . pitch him in close and he'll run you crazy with dinky doubles down the left field line ... pitch him down the middle and he's liable to hit anywhere," Richards pointed out.

Boston Scores Eight Runs Off Mertz in Eighth Inning.

By JACK TROY,

Constitution Sports Editor. Joe Cronin's Boston Red Sox rattled the palings out at Ponce de Leon yesterday, collecting 15 hits in halting a Cracker spring winning streak, 16 to 4.

It was pretty much a ball game while Pep Rambert was in there pitching. Pep stayed on his feet up double play cost him three runs in the fourth. Rambert retired in the sixth, having allowed only five hits and four runs.

Among other things he caused redoubtable James (Double X) Foxx and Ted Williams to hit into double plays. Buster Blake-ney was in on both twin killings n his debut as a Cracker.

The trouble really started an inning after Rookie Jim Mertz had gone in the game as Rambert's re-placement. The Red Sox unloaded on Mertz for eight runs in the eighth, including homers by Campbell and Williams, the latter clouting his first circuit blow of the spring over the top tier of signs in right field.

Meanwhile, the Crackers secured 14 hits off Yank Terry and Heber Newsome, but they were too scattered to do any good. Glock and O'Brien, with three apiece, were the Cracker offensive

NEW YORK, April 1.—(INS)—The date on this piece, and the fact that it is about Buck Newsom, should not be construed as a wallop at our favorite pitcher. Buck may be eccentric, but he's no fool, as his position in the business and social life of good old Hartsville, S. C., indicates.

By the time you read this he may have been traded somewhere else; but, as of press time, he is a member of the Washington Senators once again. He had hopes that Clark Griffith would waive on him and enable the Brooklyn Dodgers to buy him from Detroit. Brooklyn inevitably will wind up with Newsom . . . next year, the year after, or the year after that. It would have saved a lot of bookkeeping for nim to be sent up immediately to the Dodgers-his natural mental and spiritual level.

Buck was a member of the Brooklyn Daffiness Boys team back in 1929 and 1930 and became thoroughly innoculated with the curious lack of balance which marked that most inspiring of all marked that most inspiring of all of Wilbert Robinson's clubs. The old gag about "once a Dodger, al-ways a Dodger," packs more truth than poetry. A player, particular-ly as impressionable as Newsom, could not have been a member of the Dodger team without picking Burge Figures in Dodger up traits that were to last through a lifetime.
The daffiness boys did everything but run the bases clockwise. Babe Herman caught fly balls on his skull and actually tripled into a double play. Jacques Fournier, the first baseman, stopped a game one day to advise a kid pitcher to feed Rogers Hornsby a high-andinside pitch. The kid did, and Hornsby hit a home win into the last 18 games. Committee Established To Keep Board Informed of Matter.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY. Intercollegiate athletics at Geor-

Peters, of Manchester, to continue ath-letics. However, the resolution included the establishment of the committee which is to "look into the matter and report to the Board of Regents if any further emergency should arise and any-thing that might affect the schol-

The resolution was a compro mise pact between the two oppos ing factions of the regents. L. W. "Chip" Robert, who said he would propose abolition of football for the duration at the meeting, said the resolution answered all his questions.

"No one is more in favor of athletics than I am," he said. "We will have intercollegiate athletics if it does not interfere with the scholastic standings of our boys."

Regent George C. Woodruff vigorously opposed the establishment of the committee, offering another resolution which proposed the board "hereby adhere to its established policy of permitting the various units of the University System to operate their respective athletics programs in a manner which has proven so satisfactory in the past."

There Should Be a Law-

Shortly after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, on December 7, six men were arrested in California on charges of sedition. They were members of a pro-Nazi, anti-American group. Among them were two, Ellis O. Jones and Robert Noble, described as the leaders of this

A few days after the arrests, the men were released by order of United States Attorney General Francis Biddle, who based his order on the desire to maintain the rights of free speech.

Jones and Noble have now been re-arrested, again to face federal charges of sedition, Robert Noble has admitted he shouted "To hell with MacArthur" at a meeting of his organization, the "Friends of Progress." Further, he told a California legislative investigating committee he admired Hitler, believed the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor justified, advocated "Europe for Hitler" and "the Orient for the Japanese," and accused President Roosevelt of unwarranted meddling in world affairs.

Jones led a mock impeachment of President Roosevelt at a meeting of the same organiza-

It is sincerely to be hoped that men of this stripe, who admit they are working for the defeat of America and the Allied Nations, can be placed behind bars for at least the duration of the war. There are others, well known both to the public and to the law enforcement authorities, who ought to receive that same

Despite the argument of Attorney General Biddle for freedom of speech, there is always a point where liberty degenerates into license. That point is more quickly reached in time of war than in time of peace.

If the present laws of the nation are not stringent enough to send such outright enemies to prison for the duration, stronger laws which will do just that should be enacted at once.

This is war, we are fighting. It is not a political campaign or a pink tea debate. It is war and the penalty for defeat is death. Such men as Jones and Noble are dangerous enemies. They and all their kind must be handled without gloves, in the manner that any intelligent nation handles internal foes when at war.

Free Soldier Mail

No longer will Tommy, in the Army, be able to excuse his failure to write home with the old alibi, "didn't have a stamp." For an order has gone forth to all postmasters directing them to accept, without postage, letters and postcards written by the armed forces. Letters and postcards only. The order does not apply to air mail, to packages or parcels.

The order goes into effect as soon as the postmaster receives it.

All that any soldier or sailor needs to do. then, is to write the word "Free" in the upper right-hand corner of the envelope-where the stamp usually goes. He must, also, write his name, rank and the branch of the service to which he belongs, in the upper left corner.

That is all. The free letters will be accepted anywhere the United States mail operates and may be dropped in any mailbox in the United

The idea is to make it as easy as possible for the boys in the services to write home frequently. Close touch with home aids morale and keeps a boy from doing many undesirable things which reduce his efficiency not only as a soldier, but as a citizen and a man.

It is impossible to extend the free postage privilege to letters from their families to the soldiers. But the government hopes the folks at home will write to the soldiers and sailors as often as they can. For, if there is anything more important, for morale, than writing letters home, it is receiving letters from home.

After all, a congressman enjoys-and sometimes abuses-free postage privilege. And the boys who are to do our fighting deserve at least as much consideration as the average congressman. Deserve more, in fact, than some congressmen.

Simple Justice

From the Treasury Department come two suggestions about amendments to income tax regulations which cannot be viewed as anything other than simple justice. They should, in fact, have been made years ago.

First, it is proposed that unusual medical expenses, beyond a certain percentage of gross income, be made deductible from income subject to taxes.

Every man, every head of a family, expects a certain proportion of his annual income to go for medical, surgical or hospital expenses. For this reason he sets aside a given sum in his personal budget to meet these costs when they occur.

But, in many lives, there comes a time when the cost of sickness mounts far beyond the normal. It is an unavoidable, a necessary expense. It should, by every right, be deductible from taxable income.

The second proposal is that exemption for children be extended beyond the 18th birthday, as it is at present, when the child is still in school or college.

It has long been felt unfair that the exemption for a child should cease just at the time when expenses for the support of that child are the heaviest. Also, it is cogently argued, a parent who gives his child a college education is really contributing to the nation, by providing a new citizen of far greater value than one lacking in college training.

In time of war, with the need for collegetrained leadership most urgent both in the armed services and in civilian life, the contribution of a university graduate to the national resources is far from small.

Extension of the income-tax exemption allowance from 18 to 21 years, provided the child is still in school or college, is again a long needed and a self-evident act of justice.

Congress will win almost universal national approval by following the advice of the Treasury on these two points.

Frame-Up Boomerangs

If ever there was a frame-up that boomeranged against the framers, it is the Riom trial in Vichy France. Intended as a sop to the German conqueror, the trial was set to place the blame upon some Frenchman, or Frenchmen, for starting the war. Thus a scapegoat would be uncovered and duly punished and for ever afterwards Hitler and his German gang would be able to point to the records of Riom and say, "we didn't start it."

But two of the accused, Blum and Daladier, started by challenging the legality of the court itself. There were hot and bitter arguments between prosecution and defense. And, as the smoke of forensic battle arose, it quickly blacked out the original purpose of the trial. Instead of placing blame for "starting" the war, the proceedings were swung into a debate as to who was responsible for losing the war, in so far as France is concerned.

It is not surprising that the Vichy government has called a halt. The whole affair was becoming more and more objectionable to the German masters. Officially the trial has been suspended until April 15. It will be surprising if it is ever resumed.

Thus freedom to speak, at least in selfdefense, still exists in unoccupied France and, in this instance, has worked in a way little liked

NO SURRENDER

(From The Augusta Chronicle.) Japan's crack military commander, General Yamashita, sent to the Philippines to rescue the faltering Japanese expeditionary force, and at-tempt to break the "bottleneck" which has kept a large part of the islands from falling into the invaders' hands, finds that the stout-heartedness of the American-Filipino defenders is unchanged since General MacArthur left to go to Australia. Hoping to end the stubborn defense of the Philippines, the Japanese commander sent Lieutenant General Wainwright an ultimatum to surrender or suffer the consequences. As a rebuke, the American commander treated his foe with contemptuous silence, which meant that he did not even trouble to reply to the ultimatum. Sooner or later the Japanese will learn, to their dismay, that they are dealing with tough customers in this war. Americans don't know the meaning of the word surrender. The Japs should know that fact by this time. They found it out at Wake Island, and they are being given the second dose of American courage and perseverance in the fighting on Bataan. The Japanese can continue to find an easy way out of their difficulties by committing suicide, if they care to; the Americans will take theirs out in fighting.

WASHINGTON PARADE

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

CENSORSHIP TOO LAX WASHINGTON, April 1.—We have been a lot too lax in our censorship methods before and since Pearl Harbor. Every time we launch a ship we announce it to the world. When congress passes an appropriation for 31,000 new military planes, as it did last week, it is a subject for news treatment in the news-

All of this gets back to Hitler. It enables him to lay his plans for offsetting our war production program. Puts the Axis on notice what to expect from our own efforts.

Many of the things-military secrets of a sort-we have been sending openly through the foreign mails are fantastic. Usually they are caught by the censorship office at Bermuda, through which most of the European mail clears. Here are a few of the tidbits contained in widely circulated, easily available magazines and periodicals which have been stopped there

A thick magazine, containing complete blueprints of the Sperry gyropilot, a new feathering propellor, and hydraulic systems in aircraft. In addition the journal contained about 75 pages of diagrams, charts and technical tables of military value. The destination was an afreraft company in Stockholm, which comes under the Hitler sphere of influence. To France was addressed a well-known engineering publication containing a description of an important arms plant in Canada. Another article had a picture and designs of a Navy-built caisson for the Panama Canal. France is under Nazi domination,

MORE BLUEPRINTS More blueprints of a Canadian arsenal and diagrams of a new type of shell case were contained in a journal destined for Norwayanother Nazi-occupied country. It also included a detailed monograph on new uses and new alloys of steel for military purposes, carefully describing the latest scientific improvements in military steel metallurgy developed in the United States armament industry A semiofficial military journal showing interior diagrams and pictures of the Watertown arsenal was addressed to the Italian Geographical Library in Florence, Italy. It contained a spot map of the United States showing the location of every ordnance plant, Bound for Portugal was a monthly magazine containing a superb topographical map of one of the government's most important and newest power projects on the west coast. Details and pictures of a new pipe line were given. Still another magazine addressed to a European "neutral" contained pictures and silhouettes of the most recent American merchantman to be launched, information which is said to be invaluable to an Axis U-boat commander. The publication gave pictures and blueprints of the ship's engines and interior. MAILED RECENTLY Some of the material was published and mailed before Pearl Harbor, a lot of it since then. It should not be published at all for general circulation. Beginning April 1, a license is required to mail technical publications abroad. But it seems that the mere prohibition against mailing is not enough to keep the material out of Nazi hands. It usually gets back in one way or another-either through the duffle bags of some

Quislingized sailor or the diplomatic pouches of foreign emissaries. QUICKLY REPUBLISHED Recently stories have reappeared in the German and Japanese press within 48 hours after they were first printed in American newspapers. Nazi submarines roving off our coasts could not have relayed them back after picking the items up from long-wave news broadcasts, inasmuch as the Axis republication contained direct quotes from the newspapers themselves. Our short-wave radio monitering system makes it certain that the information is not going out on the air. The best guess, of course, is that the material clears through diplomatic pouches to some South American cable head, having been sent by some pro-Nazi "neutral" embassy.

body named L. Metcalfe Walling, Suspect described as administrator of the wages and hours division of the Department of Labor, recently said that Nazi propaganda was re-sponsible for the movement to abolish the 40-hour week. I don't believe he had any ground for this charge because he offered no proof and, furthermore, this agitation over the 40-hour week is a diversion which has temporarily switched public attention from the corruption of the union racket which the administration and the professional man-hunters of the nions have been trying to conceal. By kicking that gong around they have raised a great clatter in the manner of those old-time house-prowlers who would start a fight in the alley while the man around front went through the place.

The real issues are not the 40 hour week but the compulsory closed shop, the criminal practices of unions and the rising power of the union brown shirts to gang up on honest, patriotic citizens and persecute and rob them with the sanction of the packed su-preme court. The boss-fakers of his great criminal union power obviously must be glad of any such distraction, so there is as much reason to suspect them of fomenting this row as there is to suspect the Nazis on the word of an obscure recent appointed in the Labor Department who doesn't support his statements and whose official background creates sus-

Going Through Every word man Arnold Wringer said to the ouse judiciary con the predatory brutality and thievery of unions was absolutely true and proven, but he was not talking about the 40-hour week, which is quite another matter. We can retain the 40-hour week by paying for it in higher prices for war materials and other goods. This might bankrupt the nation, but we probably are going through the wringer, anyway, so what the hell. If we realize that business firms and stockholders, big and little, are not philanthropists or govern ments with taxing powers must take in at one box office what they pay out in wages, taxes and all, we can maintain the 40hour week by hoisting the ceilings on prices of war goods and civilian commodities and services. To be sure this would mean higher costs of living and the beneficiaries of the overtime pay provid ed by the 40-hour week would be no better off than they would be on straight pay. But it is as long as it is wide, so it would seem to make little difference whether we do or we don't.

But there is something deliberately deceitful and dark in this persistent and stubborn avoidance following this. Troops from Floriby our government of the sorry da came here in the summer for facts of union operations as they have been revealed in these dis ing to be open house day at Fort In 1885 congress appropriated patches hundreds of times and McPherson. 1,500 DAYS-1,400 DARK World War I lasted about 1,500 days. Of these 1,400 were dark. In our own civil war, or War Between the States, the Confederacy was winning all through the first two years of the war. Darkness sat heavily on the White House at Washington and on the government and the armed forces while the army of the south won victory after victory and while the camp fires of the Gray army could be seen across the Potomac. was not until Sherman reached Atlanta that the tide began to turn. It was not until Phil Sheridan had blackened and devastated

When the first World War came along for us, the Allies were beaten.

There was no doubt about it. It was the fresh strength of America, its men, its bread, its machines, its food, which turned the tide. Even so, it was a long time before the tide turned. The American men and skills, the American bread and tools and meat and ammunition were thrown into the war for months before the tide began to turn. There were about 1,500 days of war. Four years. Not until the last 100 days did the skies grow bright. Not until the last 100 days did the German defense crumble and the govern-

He was on his way back.

The summer isn't going to be good, unless God or Fate or both strike a decisive in our behalf. We've got to steel ourselves to it and last it out, having faith. It isn't new. It's happened before. Indeed, if it lasts no longer than fall, the darkness will not have been so long when

This war has been on less than 120 days. FROM TOKYO They won't feel any shame, but the isolationist group, and the Roosevelt haters who hate him more than they want to win this war, have given Tokyo a nice start on propaganda, and might feel some shame about it. The new station, in American, makes short wave reports to this country, stating that many people hate Roosevelt, that all Japan wants is to be sweet and nice and that Japan will do so if only this country will get rid of Roosevelt. They frankly are aiming at the isolationist, anti-Roosevelt group, seeking to create

They must believe there is a field for it.

They know the slowness of the war effort is causing discontent. It always does in any country. Propaganda is not new, but its uses in this war are greater than in any other war, more dangerous and more subtle. Actually, our war effort is far better in this war than it was We are doing 10 times as much as we did in 1917. Yet the task is 10 times greater. We must send food to Spain. We must help the countries to the south of us. We must send food to the Free French. We must make deals in diplomacy and send food to Africa. Russia must have foods and tanks and planes. There are a hundred demands in this war to one in 1917.

We may thank God we got a start with bases in Iceland and in the West Indies. We can thank God we did get started before December 7. It is going to take time to get ships ready. There is material waiting and not enough ships. The lines of supply literally stretch thousands of miles around the world. It will take time. The summer months likely will be dark.

By ROBERT QUILLEN. A little observation of history, past, present and in the making, reveals certain unmistakable trends, and these trends indicate what history will be made in the future. Thus the observer of history, who is also a philosopher, can see that Japan's conquests have cost the white man nothing at all. Racial pride prompts the belief that white men invented civilization, but that is a myth. They invented only the machines that built modern civilization-and are now destroying it. Civilization began in Asia. There were remarkable civilizations in China, India, Persia, Arabia, Africa and other lands millenn before white men became important. It is only in the last few centuries that our race, with the help of guns and machinery, has dominated the Asiatic world and called its people "native populations." When the white man's gadgets made distance meaningless, and the "natives" began to learn our tricks, it was only a question of time until the Asiatics, vastly outnumbering us, should declare their independence and win back their ancient rank. The Japs saw what was coming. Having made themselves modern power in 80 years, they knew others could do as well. When Allies suggested harnessing the reserves of China in the other World War, they protested vigorously. They would not tolerate the awaking of 400 million people at their very door. And when Chinese leaders persisted in modernizing their country, the Japa struck quickly to prevent it. But the movement in China has gone too far to be stopped, and the example of China is encouraging other lands. The Japs hastened the process, but the Asiatics would soon have been free of the white man's domination in any case.

United Nations-the lovers of freedom-shall take their loss and save what is left, or lose everything in a vain effort to save what One thing is certain.
